Beverly Bergman is a 23-year staff member of the Mental Health Association in Alameda County. Her expertise as benefits advocate for 17 years successfully helped over 500 people receive SSI/SSDI. The past 13 years, Beverly has advocated for family/caregivers by providing support, advice, education, advocacy, information and referral. Beverly guides families through dispute resolutions and assists with filing complaints. Other services include help with completing forms, explanation of how the Alameda County mental health system works and strategies when the system doesn't work. Beverly has a family member with a mental illness and understands first hand the challenges in obtaining help for a loved one while maintaining the health of the family/caregiver.

Francesca Tenenbaum is Director of Patients' Rights Advocates Programs for Alameda County and San Mateo County. She has over 25 years of experience in advocacy and has been a Patients' Rights Advocate for over 20 years.
