From the NAMI Tri-Valley President:

Most of us remember with fondness the children's story "The Little Engine That Could". NAMI Tri-Valley is living proof of the that storybook moral; "I think I can, I think I can. I know I can, I know I can!" as we steam ahead building the strength of our organization.

We finally have our bank account information, a mail box, dues structure and are officially open for business. See the back page of this newsletter for a membership form and join us. We are stronger with your support as we speak in a collective voice for the services and programs needed by our loved ones.

Also in store for you are monthly meetings with guest speakers covering a variety of topics in the mental health field. This newsletter will provide up-to-date information on local issues, training and educational opportunities, and information regarding programs and services of both NAMI California and NAMI National. We have created our own web site and it should be launched by the first of the year.

Like any growing organization, we will need help in a number of areas and invite your ideas and talents. To start, become a member and help drive our affiliate. Educate family members and neighbors about mental illness in order to reduce stigma. Join the kindred spirits that will develop and support the mental health needs in this area.

So jump on board our fledgling train because with everyone's help "I know we can, I know we can!"

Marsha McInnis,
President,
NAMI Tri-Valley

Our Mission

"NAMI Tri-Valley in collaboration with other community agencies and organizations provides information and referrals to resources, education programs and advocacy support to consumers and families."

Just Make Lemonade!

Front Porch Spirit is now producing a touring one-man show called SIDE BY SIDE~ A Journey with Depression. Brian Wetzel is a comedian who also has 20 years experience with clinical depression. Bringing his experiences and humor together, Brian takes his audience on a unique journey of laughter, painful truth and, finally, hope. By walking side by side with the affliction, he finds a way to keep surviving, keep learning, and keep living.

January 20 & 21, 2006

7:30 pm

Arlington United Church of Christ
52 Arlington Ave., Kensington
Suggested donation $10-$15

Since debuting in September of 2004 to sold out shows at the Sebastopol Center for the Arts, Side by Side - A Journey With Depression has played venues all over Northern California including Stanford University, Luna's Cafe in Sacramento, CSU Monterey Bay, Napa State Mental Hospital, CSU Sonoma, and dozens of faith communities who have brought the show in for community awareness events.

"The fact that Brian is able to provide an honest, yet hilarious perspective on a topic such as depression is amazing. His performance not only made me laugh, but strengthened my understanding of the mental illness. I highly recommend it to mental health professionals and for friends and families of depressed individuals."

James Christie, Crises Line Counselor - San Francisco Suicide Prevention

"Everyone really got a lot out of the show... I believe those who have not been clinically depressed got empathy, those who treat the depressed got understanding and ideas about treatment and those who suffer from it got validation and a feeling that they are understood and not alone."

Donnovan SomeraYisrael, Health Education Specialist, Vaden Health Center, Stanford University

"I can attest to its powerful contribution to better understanding the topic of depression. The show is anything but depressing, however, and provides a framework for meaningful discussion."

Randy Sweringen, Director of Alumni Relations, PSR

Front Porch Spirit also offers workshops, trainings, and keynote presentations for groups or agencies that serve adolescent populations on a variety of topics including healthy relationships and sexuality, social diversity, and the complex issues surrounding homelessness.

NAMI WALK 2006
 by Krista Radojevich

Save the Date!

The second annual NAMI Walk is set for June 3, 2006 in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park and NAMI Tri-Valley is ecstatic to be a part of this exciting event. Come be a part of this event that helps raise awareness surrounding mental illnesses and funds to support local Bay Area programs. This past May NAMI WALK 2005 raised more than $250,000 in corporate sponsorships and donations.

January 10, 2006 will be the kick-off meeting for NAMI Tri-Valley to learn all about how to get involved, organize walk teams, and fundraise. You won't want to miss this event! A short DVD will be shown with highlights from the 2005 walk. Dede Ranahan, Walk Director, will present NAMI WALK information. Last year Tri-Valley Bipolar raised more than $5,000 and placed in the top 10 out of all Bay Area teams. Whose team will be at the top of the list for NAMI Walk 2006? Bring your friends, family, neighbors! All are welcome! The meeting will take place at the ValleyCare Library in Pleasanton, 5525 W. Las Positas Blvd. from 7 pm to 9 pm

NAMI WALK-sponsorships

If you or someone you know can assist with securing a corporate sponsor, help us begin a discussion about ways the organization can support San Francisco NAMI WALK for 2006. Call or e-mail Dede Ranahan at 916-774-6363 dranahan@surewest.net

Book Review

by Krista Radojevich

Divided Minds, Twin Sisters and Their Journey Through Schizophrenia by Pamela Spiro Wagner and Carolyn S. Spiro, M.D., 318 pages, St. Martin's Press, 2005, $24.95 Hardback

This is a powerful memoir told by identical twin sisters, Pamela and Carolyn Spiro. The twin sisters paths diverged on Nov. 22, 1963, when the sixth-graders heard that JFK had been shot. In this riveting memoir, Carolyn recalls that the news left her feeling "numb." But identical twin Pamela writes about the voices in her head telling her that she actually killed JFK because she did not warn him about going to Dallas.

And so their journey's of sisterhood begins: Pamela's through decades of schizophrenia, and Carolyn's, through years of trying to pull her back. Carolyn is now a psychiatrist and Pamela is a writer. The memoir is told in alternating chapters, which gives the reader dual perspectives for what is going on their lives. As a young doctor, Carolyn sees her first case of catonia in Pamela. It is during her freshman year at Brown University that Pamela is hospitalized for her illness. The memoir shows the power of believing in someone and having the hope that one day they will get better with the right treatment. Carolyn continued to believe in the humanity of her sister, not merely in her illness, and Pamela responded.

If you liked reading the Unquiet Mind by Kay Jamison, you will enjoy Divided Minds as well.

NAMI is a non-profit, grassroots, self-help, support and advocacy organization of consumers, families, and friends of people with severe mental illnesses, such as schizophrenia, schizoaffective disorder, bipolar disorder, major depressive disorder, obsessive-compulsive disorder, panic and other severe anxiety disorders, autism and pervasive developmental disorders, attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder, and other severe and persistent mental illnesses that affect the brain.
